Over the past 3 exciting years we have devoted ourselves to the creation of a collection of music and ideas called 'A BEAUTIFUL LIE'. We dove headfirst into the process like never before. Challenging ourselves to be better. To embrace change. To not be afraid to let go of the past in order to keep moving forward. And to make a album that we will never regret.

Together with my brother Shannon, Matt, and Tomo, we traveled the world. >From the hypnotic desert of Morroco, the wind swept cape of South Africa, to Thailand, New York, Chicago and LA, writing and recording...exploring inside and out. We fought through personal and creative challenges, through moments of darkness and desperation, all the while, catching glimpses of chaos and beauty and ultimately creating something that we believe in with ten thousand percent of ourselves. It has been an incredible journey for us and we are so very proud of what we have done.

Tonight begins a celebration. A celebration for us all. This is something EVERYONE should be proud of because we have done it together. Like i have said before, we are all THIRTYSECONDSTOMARS. This is a call to arms for all of us who believe and a wake up call for those who do not.

For the believers I have this to say. We know who you are. We can sense it in you. When we meet. Through your actions. Your stories. Your word. You have been our inspiration. You all know by now the special bond we have have with you, our big extended slightly dysfunctional family called the ECHELON. It is upon the backs of your belief that lie all of our dreams. You are our lifeblood and we yours.

It is important that after august 30th we all send a message. It starts with buying a cd and showing the powers that be that there is something real happening out here. Something hard to define but nonetheless true. We know many of you have had the music for sometime now and we embrace that, but it is time now to show them that this is real. That we all believe. From this everything will come.

So go out. Buy the CD. Send your message. Cast your vote. And let US be the ones to tell THEM what the future holds. Not the other way around. It's our turn.

Thank you for every single thing.
